Fee Summary

1. Project Overview

This proposal outlines the design, development, and ongoing management of a complete web presence for Refuge Sales & Solutions LLC, an official U.S. distributor of Agrilogix water restructuring technology.

The project covers two phases: a marketing website built to educate buyers across four distinct industry verticals, followed by a full e-commerce integration for direct unit sales, accessories, and parts. Once launched, the subscription includes ongoing content updates, platform maintenance, and hosting — everything needed to keep the site current as your sales operation scales.

- Present a professional, modern web presence that matches the quality and sophistication of the product line
- Build trust through clear product information, real-world data, and testimonials

Educate and qualify buyers across verticals

- Targeted messaging for each core market (Ag Spraying, Livestock, Residential, and Commercial/Industrial) through dedicated page sections or standalone pages as content allows.
- Help prospects self-identify the right product fit through a comparison tool
- Reduce unqualified inquiries by giving buyers the information they need upfront

Enable direct sales

- Full e-commerce capability for units (IFW 500, IFW 1000, IFW 5000), accessories, and parts
